

Used IT appliances in our web shop for your employees

Top appliances at special prices

IT appliances in your company that are replaced can be sold as low-priced used appliances to your employees. They know and appreciate the advantages of the IT equipment from their daily use. The appliances are not usually very old and offer employees the opportunity of purchasing a really professional appliance at a very low price. In this way, as a company you can offer your employees a genuine benefit.

Tax benefit

We manage the sale of your appliances to your employees through our web shop in our own name and on our own account. In this way there is no tax disadvantage for you.

Only tested appliances in perfect condition

All appliances that your employees can purchase under special terms are thoroughly tested by our specialists and are thus in perfect technical and physical condition.

One year warranty on all appliances

In addition, all appliances sold to your employees through the web shop come with a one year warranty.

Full consumer protection

As your employees purchasing appliances in our web shop are consumers, the regulations and advantages of consumer protection naturally apply in full.

Consultancy included

We offer advice by telephone during office hours, should your employees require assistance on which appliance to purchase.

Exclusive offer and additional products

By agreement with you, the appliances are offered exclusively to your employees through the web shop. Other appliances from our store can also be offered.