Unlock dormant profits

dormant profits

Your old but recyclable IT equipment still holds real value. What has become obsolete in your company can still serve another company somewhere in the world well.

Sales expertise is your profit

Benefit from the many years of expertise of the IT remarketing experts in German-speaking countries. Our sales professionals ensure demonstrably high returns.

Accurate valuation

Thanks to our international broker network and our involvement in all relevant international markets, as well as our daily processing volumes, we are experts in the sound valuation and pricing of your used IT equipment.

Maximum yield through international network

Our integration into the international IT remarketing network ensures that you receive the best prices. It goes without saying that we comply with the applicable laws and international trade regulations, so that we do not sell to embargoed countries, for example. In addition to our international sales channels via a powerful global broker network, we also operate our own online platform. We also offer the option of tax-privileged sales of your devices to your employees.

Lucrative individual components

Individual components can also be recycled and can be very lucrative. Our employees will be happy to assist you with the exploration of your old IT equipment.

Revenue sharing models

We offer you two revenue models: With a lump sum, you receive a binding amount for your used IT equipment that can be planned and budgeted for immediately. With a share of the net proceeds, we take over your used IT equipment and share it with you according to an agreed percentage key (open book method).
